

Anders Manga, Surrender

Surrender please, and empty my soul for all to see
Don't cry for me, I left my disorder to disease
But if you have the time, to shed blinding light to change my mind
Make a compromise, deconstruct faces redesigned

Surrender please, the merciless dreamer living free
Built vast security, approximate killer guarantee
But if you have the time, to carry your heart between your eyes
Make a compromise, color your machine black and white

Wait on me sometime there's a breeze before you fall
Erase all the meaning from the writing on the wall
Cry out for what you need to make it through it all... that's all
