

Andr, Without Your Love

Drumming hearts
And your silent words of love,
They still remain
In the shades of night.
Will you go?
Will you ever save my storming soul?
I need to know.
Should I live, should I die
Without your love?
Should I smile, should I cry
Without your love?
Should I fall, should I fly
Without your love?
All I can is only living for you,
Breathing for you.
What I lose, what I find
Without your love?
What I say, what I hide
Without your love?
What I have in my mind
Without your love?
Tell me what I have to do?
Since I love you...
Fly with me,
Take my wings and dream away.
The stars will lead
To the heavens way.
Ones for sure-
Theres a thousand ways
To say good-bye
What you decide?
Should I live, should I die
Without your love?
Should I smile, should I cry
Without your love?
Should I fall, should I fly
Without your love?
All I can is only living for you,
Breathing for you.
What I lose, what I find
Without your love?
What I say, what I hide
Without your love?
What I have in my mind
Without your love?
Tell me what I have to do?
Because I love you...
