Andre Matos, A New Moonlight

Lifestorm broke my anchors And like a wreck I've been Sea and sky were just one darkness Such a brilliant radiance... You came!

I'm alive, I'm alive...
Just by the light from your eyes!

Lifestorm freed my anchors And many shores I've seen Sea and sky they gave me shelter Now we only meet in dreams

I'm alive, I'm alive...
Just by the lightfrom your eyes!

And I need you to be Like the haven that I seek

But clouds showed me and I saw: You were just the moonlight... And the moon belongs...To no one....

Suddenly, I stare and see The light in you shines on me Pouring down, endessly...
