

Andrea Parker, Lost Luggage

Time to take another walk
And vanish without trace
Under the surface
Finding my own space

No one really knows
The hidden sight of time
Behind the one way mirror
Of the closed mind

Looking so far
The things we cannot see
Inside I've lost a part in me
Lost a part in me

And as I disappear from the face of the earth
Straight in to the ground
And as I disappear from the face of the earth
No one else around

Looking so far
The things we cannot see
Inside I've lost a part in me
Lost a part in me

And as I disappear from the face of the earth
Straight in to the ground
And as I disappear from the face of the earth
No one else around
