

Andreas Johnson, Head Of The Family

Head of the family,
that's what you are to me
There's nothing more to say I've been changing, rearranging everything you gave to me
So how can I feel
The beauty you possess
How can I see
the love-the love you express
Head of the family
in everything we see under the surface you float
Head of the family
just like you and me
So this is how we grow-no
How can I feel
the beauty you possess
How can I see
the love-the love you express
So how can feel
the beauty you possess
How can I see
the love-the love you express
Head of the family
that's what you are to me
There's nothing more to say
