

Andreas Johnson, Patiently

She's like an angel watching over me
She's all the beauty god provides to see
Ooh when she comes, she'll make me the one
Until that day I'm waiting patiently
She's like a sunbeam floating through my mind
Within this dark room, she might rise and shine
Ooh when she aches, I'm the one that she breaks
Until that day I'm waiting patiently
All my love changing everyday, in shapes of blue
All my love stuck inside a dream... of you
Until that day comes shining over me...
Ooh when she needs I'm the one that she leaves
Until that day I'm waiting patiently
All my love changing everyday, in shapes of blue
All my love kept inside a box... saved for you
Until your love comes shining over me...
Until that day I'm waiting patiently
