

Andreas Johnson, Starcrossed

One taste of that lovely spice
The flavour of you honeydrop sweet
One taste and no thinkin' twice
Tonight as lover we meet
One touch of those tender lips
The spirit you bring I'll never exhale
One word that slowly sips
Tonight our love just can't fall
In Gods universe
We let ourselves go
In Gods universe we're a starcrossed
One glance those lovely eyes
To whom I always will return
One love under velvet skies
Tonight a starcrossed we burn
In Gods universe
We let ourselves go
In Gods universe we're starcrossed
One bite of that deadly fruit
The bitter sweetness surrounds my heart
One last kiss for the exit route
Tonight as starcrossed we part
In Gods universe
We let ourselves go
In gods we're starcrossed
One more death for the protocol
The last waltz by the poison thorn
One more death in complete control
Tonight as starcrossed we're born
