

Andreas Johnson, The Games We Play

You say it's solid poetry
It's what you want to see
Some sensuality
When you cry, I just can't prove you wrong
No I just play along
I guess it turns you on...

The games we play
The shows we give
The hearts we break
We live through this...The games we play

Do right, it's getting critical
Are we to cynical...
Could use a miracle...
The games we play
The shows we give
My heart you break
I live through this...The games we play
The games we play
The rules we make
Like secret codes, we can't escape
The games we play...

You say there really is no doubt
We just can't do without...

The games we play
The shows we give
The hearts we break
We live through this
The games we play
The rules we bend
With lovers lust, we will defend
The games we play...
You say it's solid poetry.
