

Andreas Johnson, Waterfall

You say time will set us free we sure could use a new direction our friends are lost and so are we were left on hold theres no connection darling

it takes a lot of love to let it go to free your mind your body and soul and it takes a lot of faith to let it show together we rise together we flow down the waterfall

so we leave the world behind dream away from all the fiction within this space were growing wild tonight we shine from holy friction oh my pearl

and it takes a lot of faith to let it show

hold on hold tight waterfall be strong be light

and it takes a lot of faith to let it show

you aint heavy you aint heavy my pearl
down the waterfall

you aint heavy you aint heavy baby girl
down the waterfall
