Andrew Bird, I felt a Funeral, in my Brain (ft. Phoe

I felt a Funeral, in my Brain, And Mourners to and fro Kept treading - treading - till it seemed That Sense was breaking through -

And when they all were seated, A Service, like a Drum -Kept beating - beating - till I thought My mind was going numb -

And then I heard them lift a Box And creak across my Soul With the same Boots of Lead, again, Then Space - began to toll

As all the Heavens were a Bell, And Being, but an Ear, And I, and Silence, some strange Race, Wrecked, solitary, here -

And then a Plank in Reason, broke, And I dropped down, and down -And hit a World, at every plunge, And Finished knowing - then -

And then I heard them lift a Box And creak across my Soul With the same Boots of Lead, again, Then Space - began to toll,

I felt a Funeral, in my Brain, And Mourners to and fro Kept treading - treading - till it seemed That Sense was breaking through
