

Andrew Lafrate, Red Light Bay

I saw the red light shining from the pier upon the bay
Where a devil girl did tempt me with her hair locked up in braids
Oh she beckoned I come over with her ancient siren song
Singin, "come down boy, away away"

And I swam the sworded waters with redemption on my mind
Fixin ways to save me from a world that (?) me dry
Oh I made it to my savior and she turned into a snake
Singin, "come down boy, away away"

Away, away away
Come down boy away away
Away, away away
Singin come down boy away away