

Andy Griggs, If Heaven Was

Andy Griggs
Miscellaneous
If Heaven Was

If heaven was an hour it would be twilight,
when the fireflies start their dancing on the lawn, and suppers on the stove and mamas laughing, and everybodys working day is done.

If heaven was a town it would be my town, oh on a summer day in 1985, everything I wanted is out there waiting, and everyone I love is still alive.

CHORUS

Don't cry a tear for me now baby, there comes a time we must all say goodbye,
and if thats what heavens made of,
you know I I ain't afraid to die.

If heaven was a pie it would be cherry, so cool and sweet and heavy on the tongue, just one bite would satisfy your hunger, and there would always be enough for everyone.

If heaven was a train it sure would be a fast one, that could take this weary traveler around the bend, If heaven was a tear it would be my last one, and you'd be in my arms again.

CHORUS

Don't cry a tear for me now baby,
there comes a time we must all say goodbye,
and if thats what heavens made of,
you know I,
I ain't afraid to die.

Yeah if thats what heavens made of,
you know I,
I ain't afraid to die!