

Andy Griggs, What If It's Me

I threw that frame against the wall
Washed my hands of all the pieces
I poured another glass and I asked myself again
What did I do to deserve this?
I started pacing back and forth
Conjured up a hundred reasons
But here I am again, running from the truth
'Cause I can't start believing
What if it's me 'causing this heartache
Blaming everybody else for the bad breaks
Me, fooling myself, calling it the hand I'm dealt
I'm sure that it's her, but what if it's me
What if it's me, my own worst enemy
Not giving her enough attention
Ignoring all the little things
Now I lie here all alone
Getting lost in her prediction
What if it's me 'causing this heartache
Blaming everybody else for the bad breaks
Me, fooling myself, calling it the hand I'm dealt
I'm sure that it's her, but what if it's me
And my selfish ways
Me, the one who needs to change
Me, who needs to take the blame
For doing this to us
What if it's me 'causing this heartache
Blaming everybody else for the bad breaks
What if it's me 'causing this heartache
Blaming everybody else for the bad breaks
Me, fooling myself, calling it the hand I'm dealt
It's me
What if it's me
Yeah, what if it's me
Oh, what if it's me
What if it's me
