

Andy Griggs, Why Do I Still Want You

I got in my car and let it roll
Headed down a new patch of road
Didn't know how far I'd go
Just got in my car and let it roll
I just let it roll

Smokin my last cigarette
But I ain't stoppin yet
I'm gettin as far as I can get
I just smoked my last cigarette

Tell me why do I still see you
Tell me why do I still care
Tell me why do I still feel you
Like you're here whisperin in my ear
Tell me why, why do I still want you

I ain't lookin in the rearview mirror
Watchin those miles disappear
Yeah, the future ain't much clearer
But I ain't lookin in the rearview mirror

Tell me why do I still see you
Tell me why do I still care
Tell me why do I still feel you
Like you're here whisperin in my ear
Tell me why, why do I still want you

Yeah, why do I still want you

I got my eye on that horizon
The moon is down and the sun is risin
Hey, am I livin or am I dyin
I've got my eye on that horizon

Tell me why do I still see you
Tell me why do I still care
Tell me why do I still feel you
Like you're here whisperin in my ear
Tell me why, why do I still want you
