

Andy Prieboy, Montezuma Was A Man Of Faith

There are white boys by the border
As gods you let them in
They bring fire & disorder
These ain't gods, they're men

Montezuma, Montezuma was a man of faith
Montezuma kept his faith & gave the world away

Try to bribe them away with silver
Try to bribe them away with gold
Your magic turns against you
They take more than they can hold

Montezuma, Montezuma was a man of faith
Montezuma kept his faith & gave the world away

Hey, your temples are burning
And your cities are laid to waste
The old god has come tumbling down
And there's a new god in his place

Montezuma, Montezuma was a man of faith
Montezuma kept his faith & gave the world away

Your people turn against you
As your cities burn & bleed
The white gods have made allies of your nation's enemies
Look on your temples, they're burning
Your religion is laid to waste
