

Andy Stochansky, House Of Gold

If I had a house of gold
I'd give you all I have
I'd melt it brick by brick
I will not show up cold

I'd see them point and stare and call
If looks could kill they'd kill you all
The worst thing we could think at all
Is maybe we're not good enough

If I had a suit and tie
Show up at your front door
They'd mispronounce my name
Pocket full of one week's pay

I'd see them point and stare and call
If looks could kill they'd kill us all
The worst thing we could think at all
Is maybe we're not good enough

Again I fall
Again I fall

When the rains come back again
Would they put you down below?
When they'd sink this old ship
Would they even let you know?

I'd see them point and stare and call
If looks could kill they'd kill us all
The worst thing you could think at all
Is maybe we're not good enough

Again I fall
Again I fall

When will you say enough is enough?
When will you say enough is enough?
When will you say...

If I had a house of gold
I'd give you all I have
All I have
All I have
All I have
