

Andy Williams, How Wonderful To Know

How wonderful to know you really love me,
How wonderful to know you really care,
How beautiful to feel my arms around you,
Kissing your eyes, hearing your sighs, touch your hair.

*How wonderful to know sunshine and laughter
That fills my empty heart with love,
To share this life with you and hereafter,
How wonderful to know that you are mine.

How wonderful to know sunshine and laughter
That fills my empty heart with love divine,
To share this life with you and hereafter,
How wonderful to know that you are mine.
