

Ane Brun, Raise My Head

I will raise my head now and travel further than this time take all there is to take on and then unravel this cellophane mind

I've got my best shoes on I'm ready for it all bring in your best crew come on I'm ready for it all

I know for quite a while now you've been knocking silently on my door I I've been avoiding your radiant words on my bedroom walls

I've got my best shoes on
I'm ready for it all
bring in your best crew come on I'm ready for it all
