

Angel Taylor, Lightning Strikes

Lightning strikes when
You walk by and
Sometimes I cannot control it
Making fun of you is
The thundering shower of
A storm on it's way
Ooh, but when you smile
The lightning last for seven miles
Seven miles, seven miles, seven miles
And when you make me laugh
I know this lightning will light
Lightning shines when You're close to me and
Sometimes I really cannot control it
And sneaking up on you if
The rain drops dew after
A storm is passed away
Ooh, but when you smile
The lightning last for seven miles
Seven miles, seven miles, seven miles
And when you make me laugh
I know this lightning will light
Lightning settles when you speak
And baby, most times I cannot control it
Your voice sounds so sweet when you
Leave a message after my phone's beep
It's just a sign of our storm beginning
Ooh, 'cause when you smile
The lightning last for seven miles
Seven miles, seven miles, seven miles
And when you make me laugh I know
When you're making me laugh I know
When you're making me laugh I know
This lightning will last
It will last
Oh, our lightning will last
