

Angel Taylor, Spinning Wheel

Looking around all the places, familiar spaces
Brings me back home to you
'Cause love keeps on traveling, keeps on traveling
Makes me feel like no matter how far I'm still with you
So love will you try to slow down?
I cannot keep up with the speed of your sound 'cause this love keeps on Break it down, turn around and depend on something that's new
Chase the miles that I'll drive, it'll eventually get me to you
I'll keep you locked up so tight in my pocket
Till you decide to slow down I'll keep spinning wheels, spinning wheels
Moving alone the weather's changing
My hearts rearranging every little doubt in my mind
Oh, so I'm coming to find you and nothing can stop me
I'm driven by this feeling inside
But love can you try to slow down?
I can't keep up with the speed of your sound that this love will keep on
Break it down, turn around and depend on something that's new
Chase the miles that I'll drive, it'll eventually get me to you
I'll keep you locked up so tight in my pocket
Till you decide to slow down I'll keep spinning wheels
Suddenly you'll see me for
Suddenly you'll see me for
Suddenly you'll see me for
Suddenly you'll see me for
Suddenly you'll see me for
Suddenly you'll see me for
Suddenly you'll see me for
Break it down, turn around and depend on something that's new
Chase the miles that I'll drive, it'll eventually get me to you
I'll keep you locked up so tight in my pocket
Till you decide to slow down I'll keep spinning wheels
Suddenly you'll see me for
Suddenly you'll see me for
Suddenly you'll see me for
Suddenly you'll see me for
Suddenly you'll see me for
