

Angelo Kelly, Reconsider

We've all gone empty, have become our own enemy
With no direction, and our senses numb
We're getting swallowed by mankind's biggest lie
The more we ask for, the more we lose
Why bother to question the state that we're living in
If we can learn to love it and all its games
At home we watch the telly or put on the radio
'Cause why should we want to sing and dance
How much more will it take
Until we reconsider, our lives, our ways
We need to reconsider, our lives our ways, our ways
A life without a reason has become the new religion
It might help to forget the sins but it won't bring happiness
The monkeys on the TV wanna tell us all how to be
But they don't know nothing at all
How much more will it take
Until we reconsider, our lives, our ways
We need to reconsider, our lives our ways
Come on and reconsider, our lives, our ways, our ways
We can choose to choke on this or lift our heads and start a life
Let's tear this house right to the ground the start from scratch on solid land
Come take my hand be by my side we'll make it right, there's hope in sight
Reconsider, our lives, our ways
We need to reconsider, our lives our ways
Come on and reconsider, our lives, our ways
We need to reconsider, our lives our ways
Our ways, oh oh ohooo
Our ways, oh oh ohooo
Our ways, oh oh ohooo
Our ways, oh oh ohooo
