

Angels, Can't Take Anymore

Angels
Howling
Can't Take Anymore
(Brewster-Eccles)

Gonna walk the streets, never seen before I won't sleep tonight, all the rest is yours
can't take anymore

Such an easy night, I got your call double lock the doors, let the shadows fall you said you never have to shed that tear
you said no one would ever find us here
can't take anymore

The news was bad, all twisted lines
I could spit them back, and leave you mine
can't take anymore

Dear God so black so white so wrong so right
can't take anymore
won't take anymore

You broke the silence and began the war the cloak and dagger's just behind your door
can't take anymore
