Tears Of Joy

Watching winter come
Over the trees the wind is blowing high
Watching winter come
Thinkin bout the summer
Knowin the days are goin blowin by
By the winters cry

And it seems like just yesterday
I was waiting for spring to come and play
When robins and butterflies
Visited me for seconds at a time
For seconds at a time

Wake up its time to start life
Walk out into the sunlight
Tell me is it warm or just shining for days
Does the cool wind blow your hair
So comfortable now
That the chill remains but is neglected for love

Will the seasons change for the better?
Or will the cold winter spell
Introduce new emotion
My love can only be denied now
My love can only be denied now

Why do the changing of seasons make me cry?
I am alone now still I feel you nearby
And youll never leave nor
Take back the love youve given
So warmth in my heart shall melt the frozen tears

Seasons change like human emotion
Awaiting the notion
To be born again arisen in the soul
So when flowers tell me life is worthwhile
A new creation brings me a smile
And you swim with me in my tears of joy
Wont you come swim with me in my tears of joy
Oh come, swim with me in my tears of joy
Wont you come, swim with me in my tears of joy
Oh come, swim with me in my tears of joy
