Ani DiFranco, Your House

the wind was applauding my passing your house how tempting, I keep your key still on my ring I have half a mind to open the gate how easy to climb your fire escapes of steel so familiar oh I feel like two of the plain of the face of you I was hidden by the night but not enough every night came back to me and the wind just passed by disappointedly how weak am I that I can't no I can't I can't even walk by