Anika Moa
Miscellaneous
Falling In Love Again
Don't you think you've had your fun
Lay across the morning sun
Been saving my money
Been working for you
Been steeped in temptation
Been waiting for you

There's a boy in every town
No wonder I get around
I'm seeing me for the first time
I've paid in full for the year
Walked through walls like they're not there
Now I know that I'm falling for you again
Yeah I'm falling in love again

Everyone has missed the bus
They're gunning down the two of us
Been crossing the border
Corrupting my mind
Keep my emotion
Forgiving my pride

There's a boy in every town
No wonder I get around
I'm seeing me for the first time
I've paid in full for the year
Walked through walls like they're not there
Now I know that I'm falling for you again
Yeah I'm falling in love again

It's still quiet in here
I can't see through my tears
I burn a candle of flares
So I can see you again
See you again
See you again
See you again

There's a boy in every town
No wonder I get around
I'm seeing me for the first time
I've paid in full for the year
Walked through walls like they're not there
Now I know that I'm falling for you again
Yeah I'm falling in love again

I'm falling
I am falling in love again
I'm falling
I am falling in love again
