

Animal Collective, Essplode

Awake in the mornin'
I wonder often
The lights are bright in the day
She decided to stay
I took her gently
Leap long and often
And she's pale but her parade will end at the train
She said, 'come on baby open your eyes'
Got to stop all that ringing
Essplode
Come on baby
Give us a rise
Not to get all that smiling
Essplode
And the air smells like wine
But when i'm fucking you lately
And you inaudible scream
Kissing your wall
But your mouth was okay
But if you wait for a minute
You'll swallow your words
So just gently descent on a day and a blanket may lay
Then finally you will open your eyes
When the pillows are piling
Esspolde
And the air smells like honey
But when i'm fucking you lately
and you inaudible scream
Kisses your wall
But your mouth was okay
(?And i only seek ya?)
Down by the river with a blank on my mind
I dropped the ball and i'm singing this song like a teacher could say,
"Your lessons are long,
but you grow and remain."
(Half a shadow you'll be)
Walkin' in the sunshine
