

Ann Beretta, Open Ended

We were here before you came, So save your pace for a rainy day, You know we can do it all witho
So take your memories and this
From now on
Then you're on our list
You got lots more life, That will leave this open ended. So burn your bridges at the stakes
Because everyday's a brand new day, And you know we can do it all again. You know we can do it
You know we can do it all again.
