

Ann Lee, Helpless

So I long for you and you long for me but distance makes it so hard there's nothing to do but wait for the day we're no longer apart.

Oh time passes fast when I come back home and miles they get back inbetween us it never can last 'cos I've got to go I only feel.

That I'm so helpless helpless

In your arms

'cos time goes flying - flying by and it's endless endless far apart

I ask why - if you're still mine.

Helpless helpless far away there's just the telephone just to make less helpless what I say

when i hear the sound - you're calling me now.

So I look at you and you look at me in pictures hung on the wall and what can I do but wait for the day

I hear your voice when you call.

So always remember - never forget the love that is living inside us if my voice is sad I only regret that you are far - and I'm so
