

Anna Ternheim, My Secret

Today must have been one of the strangest days
Some would say that you wont find love that way
The best days are not planned by common sense
By lack of time
You just happen to be where everything feels fine

Its a new secret i have found

From today i'll change my priorities around
Im no longer in command, and people say
Im off solid ground and you're to blame
But they dont understand, people never do
It's confusing, i dont expect them to

Its a new secret i have found

Today must have been one of the strangest days
I found a place where i could stay
And people say that it will kill me,
But they dont understand
People never do, but it makes sense to me
To be senseless to change my plans for you

Its a new secret i have found

And i'm off solid grounds for you
