Anna Tsuchiya, Somebody Help Me

I'm being haunted by a whisper A chill comes over me I've been trapped inside this moment I'm not a victim, i`m not a freak Free me, before i slip away Heal me, wake me from this day Can somebody help me? I've seen the face of affliction of my reality I'm being tortured by the future of things That are yet to be I'm being haunted by a vision It's like the moment never comes I feel the burden of confusion, always searching...on the run Free me, before i slip away Heal me, wake me from this day Can somebody help me? somebody help me? Now, i'm not a hero...no But the weight of the world's on my soul These images burn my eyes They're burning me up inside Free me, before i slip away Heal me, wake me from this day Can somebody help me? Free me, before i slip away Heal me, wake me from this day Can somebody help me?

Somebody help me, somebody help me
