Anni Frid Lyngstad, I Got Something

Anni Frid Lyngstad Miscellaneous I Got Something J got something You never never never had before I got something I never never never gave away before No other woman can give it to you No other woman can do what I do No other woman no no I got something

I know you've been around there You've had your shares of ups and downs Been through too many lovers Had a taste but never a bite But look here What I got for you It's love and it's true true true I got something

I got something You never never never had before I got something I never never never gave away before No other woman can give it to you No other woman can do what I do No other woman no no I got something

Some say you've seen it all That you were the first man on the moon That you got tired of flying And ended up not really doing a thing

You talk a lot about your friends How influential some of them are Forget your hot connections You don't have to sell it to me But look here What I got for you It's love and it's true true true I got something

I got something You never never never had before I got something I never never never gave away before No other woman can give it to you No other woman can do what I do No other woman no no I got something

No no no no No no no no I got something
