

Annihilator, Denied

welcome to darkness the future is here destruction and pain are my friends explosions and fires that rip through the night surrounded by bodies of death burning, crying, helpless burning, dying, in the dark
burning, crying, helpless
fire in the sky
watching and praying and waiting to die
fire in the sky
no hope for tomorrow, denied smoldering ashes and flames rise again nothing to breathe from this life flesh is beginning to pour in the streets death is my saviour tonight final solution of means to an end a product of science and man no way to take back, just what have we done fire in the sky rules the land
