

Another Animal, Broken Again

There's my dreams
Bloody dyin', face down on the floor
I can't believe the emptiness
Struggle all alone by my own
Day by day I feel it slippin' away
(Away from me)
The more I stumble
The more I fade away, yeah
All the things you tried to hide
And every time you had to lie, I'm broken
Every smile I had to fake
And every time I want to break, I'm broken again
Nothin' seems to be just what I've become
With every ounce of faith I give
Still feel it all comin' undone
Day by day I feel you slippin' away
(Away from me)
The more I crumble
The more I need to breathe, yeah
All the things you tried to hide
And every time you had to lie, I'm broken
Every smile I had to fake
And every time I want to break, I'm broken
(You can't break me)
You can't break me
(You can't break me)
You can't break me
You can't break me
You can't break me, yeah
All the things you tried to hide
And every time you had to lie, I'm broken
Every smile I had to fake
And every time I want to break, I'm broken
All the things you tried to hide
And every time you had to lie, I'm broken
Every smile I had to fake
And every time I want to break, I'm broken
(You can't break me)
You can't break me
(You can't break me)
You can't break me
You can't break me
You can't break me
You can't break me, yeah
