

Another Level, The Rain

Verse 1:

Ain't it hard to believe, that the love we had is over
Thought the house that we built, was strong enough to last forever

Prechorus 1x:

'Cause now the party's over, and you wanna be friends
But when the music stops, tell me how will it end
I could try to pretend but if I see you again I won't lie,
I might break like the sky 'cause

Chorus 1x:

Inside my tears are falling, and all I can see is rain
Inside I hear you calling, but all I can feel is pain

Verse 2:

See I used to get mad, now i'm sad 'cause i'm learning my lesson
There's no use in tears, when you know love is not possession
