

Anthony Hamilton, Never Love Again

[Verse 1]

How could i ever hide what I felt

How could you ever say you never knew all along it was there on my mind in my heart, it was the feeling, i was in love.

you act as if you never knew my name, how could you treasure puttin me through so much pain, lik child in the womb i needed you to give me love I miss that feeling of being loved

[Chorus]

How could I ever love again

how could I start to love again

After you broke me down, its hard to trust that feeling, to fall in love again

[Verse 2]

A man dont usually fall no more then twice and if he does you'll never know cause he wont say, for the fear of being fooled taken twice by the heart, it's in his nature, to be afraid, he starts to wonder if its really right, to let his past take control of his life, maybe I'll run into hope, someone thats right for me, and she'll love freely and fall in love again

[Chorus]

Love

You know what they say about a man its hard for him to fall in love

Love

Once hurt he'll never give in its hard for him to trust

Love

Bowing down it was hard to cope, when ya love broke down on me it was hard for me to trust again

[Chorus - repeat]