

Anya Marina, Fantasy

You only come out late at night
Just like an animal in the moonlight
You're wrapped up tight in mystery
You've got me so fogged in that I can't even see

My friends say I'm caught up in fairy tales and dreams
And I confess, with you it feels like make-believe
Cause you're a fantasy, you're just a fantasy, yeah
You're a fantasy, Darling to me
Do I really think I see you in the moonlight?
Really wanna hold you cause it feels right
Really wanna see you tonight.

Last night I swore I heard you call my name
Crawled through my window, took my hand and stole me away
Went to the drive-in, speeding like a runaway train
Woke up and smelled your scent in the morning rain

My friends say I'm caught up in fairy tales and dreams
And I confess, with you it feels like make-believe
Cause you're a fantasy, you're just a fantasy, yeah
You're a fantasy, Darling to me
Do I really think I see you in the moonlight?
Really wanna hold you cause it feels right
Really wanna see you tonight.

Woke up this morning, couldn't get you out of my head
I tried to call you up but the number was dead
Drove by your place, convinced that you'd still be around
But I saw a wrecking ball just tore your house down

My friends say I'm caught up in fairy tales and dreams
And I confess, with you it feels like make-believe
Cause you're a fantasy, you're just a fantasy, yeah
You're a fantasy, Darling to me
Do I really think I see you in the moonlight?
Really wanna hold you cause it feels right
Really wanna see you tonight.

Really wanna see you tonight
Really wanna see you, sleep tight.
