

Aphrodite's Child, The Shepherd And The Moon

Do you know the story of the shepherd who did try and took the (river?) moon in his arms Listen to the story
mainly if you can agree of the man who loved the woman

You can tuck it up in your mind you would like to catch the moonlight But you know the thing is not right For all of us have some secrets to hide

Do you know the story of the shepherd
who did try and took the (river?) moon in his arms Listen to the story
mainly if you can agree
of the man who loved the woman

Woman was a sting in the thorn you will get the moon for your horn you try to cheat and you'll drown of the moon you were much too full

Nowadays people of the mountains say That the Gods put the moon high up in the sky so that the men might not be tempted to steal it

Do you know the story of the shepherd
who did try and took the (river?) moon in his arms Listen to the story
mainly if you can agree
of the man who loved the woman

Round in the depths of your mind for today the moon is too high shepherd tried to catch a sunrise you might be more lucky if you try

Do you know the story of the shepherd
who did try and took the (river?) moon in his arms Listen to the story
mainly if you can agree

la, la la la ...
