

Apollo Drive , I Saw You Die

You tell me the laughter's come and gone but I'm okay with that.
I keep my defences safe and strong and I'm not turning back.

I'm standing here with fractured hope,
And all alone with words unspoken

I saw you die, in front of my eyes
I watched you fall without a choice.
To hear you breathe, what I wouldn't give
To have you here with me.

I should've known by the look on your face, but I was too blind to see
The fire slowly turned into pain, I walked for miles trying to find my way.

Still standing here, I'm not improving,
Faced with fear and I'm not moving

I saw you die, in front of my eyes
I watched you fall without a choice.
To hear you breathe, what I wouldn't give
To have you here with me.

I'm standing here with fractured hope
And all alone,
I'm lost without you.
