

Apoptygma Berzerk, Love To Blame

We've gone a long way while learning
Still our hearts kept on burning We've gone right, we've gone straight and ended up far out

We've reaped the fruits of deception
Opened the doors of perception
And burned down all the bridges we came across

When will you be whole again?
We've both been down that road
Going nowhere
Still you ask "Is love to blame?"
