

Appleseed Cast, Dreamland

hammers and nails i've used them for building my face this time tomorrow.
when i see you again outside.
and inside i can hide my sorrow.
talking in such a dirty way found a way i could come back.
catch your eye it's just the same as reminding me of what i wanted.
its what you are.
tried my list of all excuses.
ran outside lost in pain.
put it on turn up the music.
laugh and laugh about how lost i was.
it's what you are my friend.
things change you know.
don't stand around and wait.
take a step.
one more step don't fall down balance now.
there's no denying this is what you are
take a step.
one more step don't fall down balance now.
there's no denying this is what you are
take a step.
one more step don't fall down balance now.
