

Appleseed Cast, Hello Dearest Love

welcome home
her eyes know
mistakes you've made
the plans you laid

your love, it means so much a simple ring, your fingers touch break away, break away your smile, your face, light shines through burning truth, it is too soon to ignore

but she's not here
standing clear
in front of you
it's just a dream

times up, she's gone away you had your time, but it won't stay not this time, not this time soon enough, you'll kill them all every chance to break your fall you're giving in

but she's the one
bright as the sun
stops you there
right on the stairs
and falling back
when stars are black
and stripes on fire
