

Appleseed Cast, Sinking

i get the feeling that i'm sinking in you your hands go through me as i'm trying to think back on a better time like watching water in a rising tide you might not know me right now you think that i wasnt there, wanting to drown shaking words in my face pointed to all other things that i won't resist pulling out my heart, and pull in one drink to keep it calm cause i think i've hit the breach and this is all i can take to keep going on and going on, and going on you wont know me anymore
