

April Smith, High School Memory

Tomorrow's graduation day
And after Summer we'll be worlds away
But will your love still be for me?
Or will I just be another high school memory?

And in September will you be
A big shot college jock and forget all about little old me?
Cause I know, I know our love was meant to be
So don't let our love become a high school memory

Cause I remember the prom and the ball and all the things we've done
Don't let these memories fade
Let me be your only one

This night will fade into tomorrow's dreams
What will the future hold for you and me?
Will our love die or will you always love me?
And then together we share a high school memory

So don't let our love become a high school memory
