

April Wine, Time

April Wine

April Wine

Time

Written by: james henman

When we so much younger girl
I use to laugh and call you names
But now i found myself much older
I can't find no one else to blame

I remember times i tried to lead you
But you never come my way
And when i promised you tomorrow
You were lost for things to say

A time has really turned around
Time has let me down
Time has really turned around
Time has let me down

Takin' pictures from my window
I thought i'd take a few of you
Time has skipped across my shoulder
And now i have nothin' left i can do

Time has let me down
Time has really turned around
Time has let me down
Time has really turned around