

Apulanta, Twin Peaks

Throw away all the lies
Take my hand, fall over me
Into the place where we lie down just breathing
Would I ever hurt you, my love?

And I flow with you into the sea
And I no longer feel the air between

Come closer, don't look back
Let me smell all you are
I'll show you all that you ought to see, just breathing
Could I ever hurt you, my love?

And I flow with you into the sea
And I no longer feel the air between
