

Arapaho, Belinda Redwood

Arapaho
1, 2 Mile From Eden
Belinda Redwood
Why the trees must fall
Another bit of junk mail through the wall
Why the trees must always fall
So your rave trainers come boxed and all
So why the trees must fall
Because man, he wants it all, takes it all, needs it all

Hey, that tree's called Belinda
Leave her alone
She's the tallest girl in the world
Hey, that redwood's called Belinda
Leave her alone
Because trees are the lungs of the world

So why the trees must always fall
Just to pack an idol, that's all
So why the trees must fall
Because man, he wants it all, takes it all, needs it all

Hey, that tree's called Belinda
Leave her alone
She's the tallest girl in the world
Hey, that redwood's called Belinda
Leave her alone
Because trees are the lungs of the world

So why trees must always fall
So we can read about the woe of it all
So why the trees must fall
Because man, he wants it all, takes it all, needs it all

Hey, that tree's called Belinda
Leave her alone
She's the tallest girl in the world
Hey, that redwood's called Belinda
Leave her alone
Because trees are the lungs of the world
