

Arch Enemy, Revolution Begins

Since the day that you were born
The wheels are in motion
Turning ever faster
Play your part in the big machine

The stage is set
The road is chosen
Your fate preordained
We are watching you
Every step of the way

Never too late
To stand your ground
Revolution begins
In you, in me
Revolution

Once lost, lost in the game
Mental chains, breaking now
Set yourself free
Who are they to tell you what to do?

This stage is not set
The road is not chosen
Your fate not preordained
They are losing control
Every step of your way

Never too late
To stand your ground
Revolution begins
In you, in me
Revolution

-Solos-

Never too late
Too stand your ground
Revolution begins
In you, in me
This is revolution
Revolution

-Solo-
