

Arch Enemy, Yesterday Is Dead and Gone

The fire's inside us tonight
These bridges will burn so bright
Tomorrow bears our name
No more power games
Reaching for the light beyond
We will rise through the dark again
Ready to fight for what we believe to be right
Yesterday is dead and gone
Rattling the chains - shaking the cage
Heed our war cry
Let there be no doubt - we want out
This is reckoning day
We are standing in the flames
Reaching for the sky
Fighting to the end
Yesterday is dead and gone!
Under a blood red sky our voice will be heard
In a world where compassion is lost
You try to control us - this is so absurd
Freedom will be won at any cost
Rattling the chains - shaking the cage
Heed our war cry
Let there be no doubt - we want out
This is reckoning day
We are standing in the flames
Reaching for the sky
Fighting to the end
Yesterday is dead and gone!
Yesterday is dead and gone...
Rattling the chains - shaking the cage
Heed our war cry
Let there be no doubt - we want out
This is reckoning day
This is reckoning day
Yesterday is dead and gone...
