

Architecture In Helsinki, Heart it Races

And we're slow to acknowledge the knots on the laces heart it races
and we go back to where we moved out to the places
heart it races
i bought it in a can and stirred it with my finger singing boom-dadadadadadada boom-dadadada through it out the window and lately you've been tanned suspicious for the winter with your boom-dadadadadadada boom-dadadada legs like little splinters and we're slow to acknowledge the knots in the laces
heart it races
and we go back to where we move out to the places
heart it races
i sold it to a man and threw him out that window he went boom-dadadadadadada boom-dadadada made his wife a widow heart it races alone everybody go
Boom dadadadadadada boom dadadada