

Arcwelder, And Now

(w graber)

So stay to myself and how's this door been opened
And all these superstitions won't help now
And now is the time 'cause now I've been forgotten (It's the sadness of the year)
And now I try to fix this hole in the sky

The road to here was paved with the best intentions (In the brownness and the sear)
Like the hope to understand it most of all

And now you wanna help
'Cause now you've got yourself
And now you know what's best
'Cause now you blame the rest

And now and now I know
And now and now I know
And now and now I know
And now and now AND NOW

This came to me here 'cause I'm weary from the surface (It's the silence of the year)
The rarest common untold from the sun
The simplest thought through a fog that's near and truest (In the silence for the fear)
And a miracle darkest hope comes from this none

And now you wanna help
'Cause now you've got yourself
And now you know what's best
'Cause now you blame the rest

And now I see the less of everything
And the dream is over
And now I've learned its got the best of me
And the dream is over NOW too soon (So stay to myself now) to see for less (So stay to myself now) to go And now (So stay to myself now)

I know And now And now
